

VERONICA RAPPOPORT
VICE PRESIDENT
CENTRAL BANK OF ARGENTINA

Verónica Eva Rappoport graduated in Economics from Universidad de Buenos Aires (UBA) with Magna Cum Laude honors, and holds a master's degree in Economics from Universidad Torcuato Di Tella (UTDT) and a PhD in Economics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT).

She specializes in international economics and finance, and was a consultant for the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB). From 1999 to 2000 she served as an advisor to the Ministry of Economy during the administration of the political party coalition known as the Alliance for Work, Justice and Education.

She is author of several papers and publications, and a permanent professor of Economics at the London School of Economics. She is also a researcher at the Center for Economics Performance (CEP) and the Center for Economic Policy Research (CEPR) and a professor at Columbia Business School in New York.